Tips from your pharmacist

- If you are taking more than one medicine, use pill containers
- If you have trouble opening the pill bottles, ask your pharmacy to put your medicine in a bottle with an "easy open" lid
- If you have trouble reading the prescription label, ask the pharmacist to use large print on the labels
- If you find it difficult to swallow pills, ask if your medicine comes in a liquid form or if you can chew or crush it
- Try to use the same pharmacy for all your medication
- When you pick up your prescription refill, check that the medicine looks the same as the last time, if it does not, ask!
- If other people in your family are on medications, use a marker to highlight the person's name on each bottle or store them in different locations
- Read the patient information on each medication
